RECEPTION AND PRESENTATION

Six young men were arrested by Policemen Roberts and Dillon Thursday night for resorting to a house of prostitution at the head of Victoria alloy, on State street. Three of them forfeited $5 apiece bail, and the others were fined $60 each and committed. Two girls were also caught in the net, and each forfeited $60. The place has been so disorderly in the neast that efforts are being made to break it up. Two of the crowd found there yesterday morning are colored men.

The case of assault and battery against Louis Roeseh was dismissed in police court yesterday owing to the non-appearance of the prosecuting witness, George Evans. Roeseh is the porter of the Cullen bar, who ejected Evans from the saloon Tuesday morning and knocked him down twice on the sidewalk.

The case of petit larceny against Alex Goens, charged with stealing a target rifle from the Wasatch barber shop, was continued by Judge Timmony until Tuesday, Sept. 27.

Forfeitures from drunks, prostitutes and resorters to houses of ill fame amounted to $135 in police court yesterday.

William Dickert rode his bicycle on the south sidewalk on First South street, between West Temple and First West, yesterday afternoon. He took one glance back at Foliceman Davies, and scorched down the street, followed by the officer on his high-gear wheel, who soon overtook him. "You tried to get away from me, didn't you?" Dickert grinned and accompanied the officer to the police station, where he left his wheel for ball, saying that he didn't know he was rising in the restricted district.

Grant Hampton forfeited $2 in police court yesterday for violating the bicycle ordinance. The arrest was made by Policeman Talbot at 7:40 a. m.

do & Coffeyville express train on the Missouri Pacific railway, which left Kansas City at 2:15 o'clock tonight, was held up by robbers near Leeds, a suburban station about six miles out from the union depot. The locomotive and baggage car were detached from the train and taken down the track towards Dodson, after which the robbers shattered the Pacific Express company's car with dynamite. At midnight it is not known what the robbers secured. Officials of the express company state that the safe contained little treasure, as the messenger carried nothing destined for points beyond Coffeyville, Kan.

The explosion of the dynamite used by the robbers was heard by many persons in the southeastern part of Kansas City, Flying debris from the shattered car carried down telegraph wires along the Frisco track, which parallels the Missouri Pacific at that point. Before committing the hold-up, the robbers entered the Frisco station at Belt Line, just east of Leeds, and overpowered the operator. After smashing the instruments is his office, they took the operator with them to the scene of the robbery.

It is reported that the robbers wrecked the locomotive, after running it almost to Dodson, but the report is not confirmed. Superintendent Mocre, the Pacific Express company's chief official here, insists that the train carried very little treasure.

The robbers numbered seven, it is repress company's chief official here, insists that the train carried very little treasure.

The robbers numbered seven, it is recorted. The scene of the hold-up is not far from Brush creek, or the Blue river, where there is thick brush and heavy timber, and the escape of the robbers from that locality would not be a difficult matter. A special train has taken police and railway detectives to the scene. At a late hour the train was still detailed there, owing to the wreck of the hasgage car. So far as can be learned, the passengers were not molested.

Joan Kennedy, whose name has been connected with many of the train robberles in the vicinity of Kansas City, and who has been twice tried for robbing trains, was released from the county lail only a few days ago on bail, pending his trial for the murder of Miss Emma Schumacher, who was shot down by robbers in her grocery store. As Kennedy left the county jail he remarked: "It will be just my luck if a train robbery comes off in a day or so now."

Kennedy could not be found tonight, He is supposed to be at his father's home, in the Cracker Neck district.

announced that there was a sufficient force of men inside to do rescue work, when a weary and painful wait of hours took place. A LIVING TOMB.

Just above the entrance to the mine

Just above the entrance to the mine there is an artificial plateau up against the hillside. From the edge of the plateau a good view of the track leading to the mine could be had. Here women stood, wringing their hands in anguish, weeping and wailing. The hundreds of people realized that they stood at the entrance of a living tomb. It was several hours later that the tinkling of the electric bell in the engine house announced that a train of coal cars was coming from within. The scene of the disaster is more than a mile from the entrance. The cars are taken in and out by means of heavy
